

Joe Fanaro
Portfolio Management and Trading

Mr. Fanaro is a trader and portfolio manager for IRON's Equity Derivatives and REIT strategies. Mr. Fanaro joined IRON Financial in 2012 and is also responsible for investment strategy research across asset classes including fixed income, equities, options and futures.

Prior to joining IRON, Mr. Fanaro worked in the futures industry as a Trader and Quantitative Analyst, where he researched, developed, executed and managed the risk of investment strategies. Mr. Fanaro worked extensively in the development of financial models to value derivatives and cash securities, covering both traditional and alternative investments.

Mr. Fanaro received his M.B.A. with honors in Finance from DePaul University, Kellstadt Graduate School of Business and a Bachelor's of Science from DePaul University's College of Commerce.